I get excited [when I see the flag.]. South Africa is my home. Home is where the heart is. That's a quote that comes to mind. Obviously, there are a lot of problems, we know that. But I am proud to live [in South Africa]. It is an exciting feeling. [...] Recently we experienced that feeling again during the Rugby World Cup. [...] It brings the community together and you get to see the Springbok colours everywhere and people are proud to wave the South African flag.
